

Quail Hollow Ranch 1948 – north is up, east is right

- Many orchards (see the straight lines of trees in the middle of the photo) north of the driveway, north of the ranch house, east of the corrals and south of the barns
- There's a rectangular concrete pond just south of the ranch house, if you bump up the size of this PDF you can see it
- The Sunset trail near the top of the photo was built by the Lanes. It's a little hard to see; we think it was a narrow trail.
- The Italian trail, below Sunset trail and more easily seen, was originally built by the Bonnetti brothers (we think in the 1920s) to drive their Model T to their cabins, and is still very easy to see on this photo. Look for the squiggly line off Quail Hollow Road, going left to right. The cabins were washed away in the 1982 rains.
